Dear Pradeep,

It gives me great pleasure to offer you the position of Staff Engineer for Samsung Semiconductor, Inc. This position is considered an exempt position, reporting to Jeong Woo Lee. You will work out of the San Jose, CA location with an anticipated start date of TBD. The terms of your employment, which will be through Samsung Semiconductor, Inc., are outlined below.

Base Salary: $6,458.33 per paycheck ($155,000.00 per year annualized).

MBO: Participation in our Management By Objective (MBO) plan, based upon a target of 20% per annum, for performance which meets levels determined by management, currently payable on a calendar semi-annual pro-rata basis. Important and binding MBO terms and conditions, including eligibility requirements and payment calculations and schedules, are available in the applicable MBO policy, which is subject to change by the Company.

Sign-On Bonus: A one-time sign-on bonus of $10,000.00 (less tax and other applicable withholding amounts) will be paid to you on the first pay period following your start date. You agree to pay this amount back on a pro-rata basis (based upon days of employment) if, within two (2) years of your start date, you leave Samsung voluntarily or are terminated for cause. The repayment amount is based on the after-tax/withholding amount (not the gross amount). If you are required to make a repayment, Samsung will not adjust your W-2 amounts for any repayment, as you are only repaying on a net after-tax basis.

Relocation: Altair Global Relocation, our relocation services partner, will assist in coordinating your relocation and processing your expenses. Attached is the relocation policy with instructions on how to start the relocation process. You agree to pay back the relocation expenses paid by Samsung on your behalf on the following pro-rata schedule (based upon days of employment) if, within two (2) years of your start date, you leave Samsung voluntarily or are terminated for cause: 1-180 days, 100%; 181-365 days, 75%; 366-540 days, 50%; 541-730 days, 25%; 731 or more days, 0%. Additional terms and instructions are set forth in the attached Relocation Payback Agreement, which you are required to sign prior to initiation of your relocation.

While we hope that our relationship will be long and mutually rewarding, it is expressly agreed should you accept this offer that your employment with Samsung is "at will," meaning that either you or the Company can terminate, or change the terms of, the relationship at any time, for any reason, with or without cause or advance notice. This is the complete agreement concerning the duration and "at will" nature of your employment; there are no implied promises, obligations or guarantees regarding your compensation or other employment terms and conditions.

As a Samsung employee, you will be expected to abide by the Company's policies, including any policies or provisions that are incorporated in the Employee Handbook. If necessary, Samsung will seek the appropriate employment authorization on your behalf, but cannot guarantee that such authorization will be granted. Samsung reserves the right to revoke this offer and any related compensation or benefits if any of the above requirements are not fulfilled to Samsung's satisfaction.

We also ask that you disclose any and all agreements that may affect your eligibility to be employed by Samsung, or that limit the manner in which you may be employed (including, but not limited to, any non-compete agreements).
